

Forest investment and insurance account (CIFA)

Submitted by editor on Mon, 07/10/2019 - 13:16

The CIFA is a savings account for private forest owners.

Fuelled by wood cutting products, the CIFA is a self-insurance tool that can be used in the event of a natural disaster. The sums deposited in it may also be used for investments in sustainable forest management (excluding disaster).

Like the advantages of the physical forest, the sums deposited in the CIFA will benefit an exemption of $\frac{3}{4}$ from their value for transfer duties free of charge.
