

Call for grants for innovation projects developed by supra-autonomic operating groups. 2019

Soumis par editor le ven, 20/09/2019 - 10:50

On a competitive basis, to groups of two or more natural or legal persons for the execution, through operational groups, of innovation projects of general interest. The projects must be aimed at benefiting an entire sector or sub-sector at the national level and their actions will be carried out in two or more autonomous communities. Projects whose results are to be applied in a single autonomous community will not be accepted. The projects must be oriented towards one of the objectives of the European Association for Innovation in terms of agricultural productivity and sustainability: i. Promote a resource-efficient, economically viable, productive and competitive agricultural and forestry sector with low emissions, climate-friendly and climate-resistant, working towards ecological production systems and in harmony with the essential natural resources on which agriculture and forestry depend. ii. Contribute to a stable and sustainable supply of food, feed and biomaterials of both existing and new types. iii. Improve processes for environmental protection, climate change adaptation or mitigation. d) Create linkages between cutting-edge knowledge and technologies and farmers, forest managers, rural communities, businesses, NGOs and advisory services.
